LOG NOTE -- Jordan Bureau

[redacted], a monitor specialist (FSN-9) who has been with FBIS for about 4½ years, asked to speak with me this morning. He said that he and his wife had been discussing FBIS job opportunities outside Jordan, and he was interested specifically in a transfer to Nicosia Bureau or in working with JPRS in the United States.

STAT

I explained that JPRS translators are independent contractors, that is, free-lance translators who do not enjoy the benefits of being FBIS employees. When he realized that he could not be "transferred" to a job in JPRS, but would have to go to the United States and go into the translation business on his own, he lost interest in that.

As for going to Cyprus, I explained that it could only be viewed as a long-term prospect, that I could not consider releasing him for transfer until this bureau has an adequate number of trained monitors on board. Then it would be a matter of waiting for a suitable opening in Nicosia and of the bureau chief there deciding to bring an experienced monitor from Jordan rather than recruiting and hiring a new monitor. [redacted] said he recognized that his first responsibility was to his job here at Jordan Bureau and that he had no desire to transfer at a time that would leave Amman in a difficult situation. However, he did want to make it a matter of record that he would like eventually to transfer to Cyprus when the opportunity arises.

STAT

I promised to inform the Chief/Nicosia Bureau and the Chief/Operations Group, as well as noting it in his file at the bureau.
